

FACULTY TEACHING POSITIONS – FALL 2018

The Music Conservatory of Westchester, a nonprofit community music school in White Plains, NY, has openings for faculty positions in piano, voice, guitar, and violin, to begin in mid-September, 2018. Please see below for position descriptions.

To apply, please email a cover letter and resume to Dr. Amanda Tabor:
amanda@musicd.org.

Voice: The Music Conservatory of Westchester seeks an experienced voice teacher to teach individual lessons to youth, teens and adults, as well as leading the school's Youth Chorus open to all students ages 6 to 12. Requires a well-developed approach to teaching the fundamentals of vocal technique, and standard musical theatre, classical, and pop repertoire. Candidates should have significant experience working with elementary-age children in a group setting, experience teaching teenage students and adult avocational singers, and should in addition have a strong performing background. The Conservatory is a nonprofit organization and is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. The school has a large vocal program and in addition to private lessons offers vocal ensembles, theory, and a robust recital program. Housed in a spacious facility with excellent teaching studios, the school offers a collegial teaching environment. The building is quick commute from Grand Central via Metro North, or by car, and has onsite parking.

Guitar: The Music Conservatory of Westchester, a large and acclaimed community music school in White Plains, New York, seeks a guitar teacher experienced in working with students of all ages and skill levels. Candidates should have experience working with elementary aged and beginning students, and a well-developed approach to teaching the fundamentals of the instrument. Minimum bachelor's degree in guitar performance is required, master's degree preferred. Position involves teaching private guitar lessons, beginning group guitar, and possibly jazz, rock, or guitar ensembles. The Conservatory is a nonprofit organization and is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. The school is located in a renovated facility with excellent teaching studios and a beautiful recital hall. The building is quick commute from Grand Central via Metro North, or by car, and has onsite parking.

Violin: The Music Conservatory of Westchester, a large and acclaimed community music school in White Plains, New York, seeks a violin teacher for private lessons for students of all ages and skill levels. Candidates must have an advanced degree in violin performance, a strong performance background, and at least two years relevant teaching experience with young children, youth, teens and adults, from beginner to advanced. The Conservatory seeks candidates with a strong knowledge of pedagogy, literature, technique and interpretation, who enjoys working with a variety of students, is patient, positive, supportive, and communicates effectively with students, parents, and colleagues. The Conservatory is a nonprofit organization and is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. The school is located in a renovated facility with excellent teaching studios and a beautiful recital hall. The building is quick commute from Grand Central via Metro North, or by car, and has onsite parking.

Piano: The Music Conservatory of Westchester, a large and acclaimed community music school in White Plains, New York, seeks a teacher for private piano lessons for students of all ages and skill levels, and music theory classes for adult students. Candidates must have an advanced degree in piano performance, a strong background in music theory and history, and have experience working with young children, youth, teens and adults, from beginner to advanced. The Conservatory seeks candidates with a strong knowledge of pedagogy, literature, technique and interpretation, who enjoys working with a variety of students, is patient, positive, supportive, and communicates effectively with students, parents, and colleagues. The Conservatory is a nonprofit organization and is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. The school is located in a renovated facility with excellent teaching studios and a beautiful recital hall. The building is quick commute from Grand Central via Metro North, or by car, and has onsite parking.